Consuming Families: Buying, Making, Producing Family Life in the 21st Century (Routledge Advances in Sociology) By Jo Lindsay, JaneMaree Maher

This book explores contemporary families as sites of consumption, examining the changing contexts of family life, where new forms of family are altering how family life is practised and produced, and addressing key social issues – childhood obesity, alcohol and drug addiction, social networking, viral marketing – that put pressure on families as the social, economic and regulatory environments of consumption change.
