Ministering to Babies in the Womb By Arthur A. Burk

Most parents demonstrate a high level of responsibility in caring for their baby's body and soul. Now you can be just as diligent in caring for your child's spirit. These tools have been in use for more than twenty years so we can see the significant difference between those adults who received spiritual nurture in the womb and those who were only nurtured spiritually after they were toddlers. This set is appropriate for adults who were not nurtured in the womb as well. Herein you will learn about breaking generational curses, releasing generation blessings, nurturing in the womb and the three kinds of blessings: blessings of peace, blessings of joy, and blessing names of God.

Editorial Review

About the Author

Arthur Burk is a researcher whose war cry is There has to be a better way. He is no friend of dysfunctional systems or beliefs. On the surface, you readily see the diversity of his background. He has traveled globally for half a century, is multi-lingual and has allowed the strengths and nuances of many cultures to inform and enrich his world view. He has been a pastor, home schooling parent, businessman, public speaker and writer, all of which served to give him a highly textured view of life. While his experiences in life have given him a broad view of many topics, he is ultimately defined by his high view of God. Whether he is ministering to babies or consulting with businessmen, God is not far off. He sees the principles from the Word as applicable everywhere, and celebrates the power of God flowing from principles. For decades now, people have said that they see life and God differently for having been exposed to Arthur s world view.
